This is a progressive age and since our town is over run with civil engineers and surveyors, who are putting up many little stakes with peculiar marks on them. We look around for progressive signs, and first we notice the water works which consist of pipes leading from the various springs on the hills that lead water to many of our citizens doors, but they have no sewerage pipes and in consequence thereof, this is the muddiest place on earth. Another thing we notice is one or more cars of coal on the switch ready for shipment and an electric plant could not be put in at once and the L. & N. has not seen cause to put switch lights on this road yet, so all the lanterns in town and all that could be borrowed from neighboring towns are being out for street lamps. Terrible was the state of affairs which prevailed in the little town of Corbin Wednesday and Wednesday night, the result of which, is, two persons dead, four wounded and one building completely wrecked by a dynamite. James Shotwell and Rolla White, the two principals in the fight, who had been enemies for some time, met near the L. & N. depot and the trouble began. Mr. Tilman Gelpin, who has done much towards getting tobacco started in this county, proposes, if the farmers will only take hold, to send a man here who has been engaged in raising tobacco and is fully informed as how to raise it; keep that man here the entire tobacco season, let him go from one part of the county to the other and show the farmers just how to raise the tobacco and how to take care of it after it is made, and for this all he asks is ten pounds of every hundred raised, this he will obligate himself to take as it comes, from the stalk up, let it be good or bad. This is an especially fair and reasonable proposition, and the farmers, who want to try a tobacco crop, ought to take advantage of this offer.

Road Law.—Judge Williams decided last Tuesday morning, in a very able and lengthy oral opinion in the case of the Commonwealth vs. B. J. Bethurum that the Rockcastle road law, known as the local act of 1890 was in operation for four reasons:—

1st That the local law required special legislation to keep it in force which has not been passed.
2nd That it was inconsistent with the constitution.
3rd That it was superseded by a general road law in 1894.
4th That had no general law been passed it would have become in operation at the expiration of six years from the adoption of the new constitution.

However this opinion does not let any one out of working the county roads as the general road law is in effect which we think is a better and wiser law. Under the old law no man could be put in jail for failing to work the road now he can be imprisoned for that as well as any other misdemeanor. The fiscal court will levy a road tax not to exceed 25cts; they may select commissioners and pay them a reasonable compensation as they ought to be paid. Justice of the Peace may try road cases whereas under the old law only the County Judge could try.

At his home near Disputanta, Ky. on Friday Dec. 28 1900, at 8 p. m. surrounded by those he loved, J. T. Ballou at the Christian church, after which his remains were laid to rest by the side of his first wife. He left two children Mrs. J. J. Brannaman and Mr. J. W. Stephen of Berea. In 1893 he married his last wife Mrs. Angie Clark, of Mt. Vernon, who survives him.

Called home, but Oh! how many sighs

Have followed thee beyond the skies!
For thee the gates ajar were swung,
For thee the welcome anthems sung.

Farewell, dear one, the time will come,

We soon shall meet thee in thy home,
Where Jesus at the entrance waits
To take us through the pearly gates. Recla.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Many new pupils have been enrolled in the past two weeks, the total enrollment, up to date, being one hundred and seven. This already exceeds the regular enrollment of last year and several more pupils are expected.

Misses Susie Thompson, Eva Fish and Kitty Poynter, have lately entered the piano class, and Misses Berta and Susie Ester, the guitar class.

The spirit of earnest study is shown in all the various classes; and the willingness and faithfulness of the pupils in both Literary and Musical work is of a kind to be highly commended.

The huge spelling class has been made into two, but the interest seems only to grow. The Collegiate and Intermediate mathematics form six of the most zealous classes in College. The Latin classes in all grades have so many very excellent lessons, that one is led to believe many of the pupils have learned to not only study and read Latin, but also to think in that language.

The String Band, which was organized just before the Holidays, meets every Monday evening at 6:30 for practice, in Miss Cox's music room. The members at present are Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Messrs. Albright, Whitehead, Burdette Houk, Ernest Ewers, Burdette and Charlie McKenzie, and McKenzie Brown; Misses Bessie McClure, Bessie Houk, Clyde Cass and Miss Cox.

The band is very much in earnest and its enthusiastic work is pleasing in the extreme. We will be able to play for you in a few weeks.

The Philamathian now holds its weekly meetings on Friday evenings at seven o'clock, in the Chapel. At the monthly business meeting on Jan. 4th, the following officers were elected: Judge, R. G. Williams; President, Lee Chestnut Vice-Pres. Ernest Ewers; Secretary, McKenzie Brown, Treasurer.

Those who are interested in literary and musical study and entertainment, are cordially welcomed as members in our Club, whether they be enrolled as pupils of the College, or as friends outside. Inquire of us the purpose of our Club, and see if you would like to become a member. The Club gives promise of much interest in its meetings in the next few months.

The usual one hour programme of readings, debate, recitations and music, will be given next Friday. You are invited to attend.

A Chorus class—or, more properly—a glee-club, is now being discussed, that the Philamathian and its friends may have full benefit of the many fine voices now in school. It is to be hoped that the discussion will result in the organizing of such a club in the near future.

A few of our pupils have been out of school for some time on account of sickness. Among those are McKenzie Brown, Luther Mullins and Gladden Ewers. We are glad to report all are better and we hope to see them soon in their accustomed places at the College.

The pupils, of the town, who were so fortunate as to hear Mr. Hale, who gave us an entertainment last February, will be pleased to know that he will be at the College again on next Tuesday night, January 22. The proceeds of the entertainment will be used towards starting a Library for the College. Let all the friends of the College give us their support in this much needed work. The entertainment will be well worth all its costs and the College be greatly helped.
